'80 Budget Planning Underway

The annual town meeting may seem a long way off, but preparations are underway at town hall for presentation of the town's needs for the 80's to the people next April.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said this week, that department heads are submitting budgets for review and he has begun the process of putting together the town's financial needs for the next fiscal year.

In addition, the manager has begun putting together information to address some issues which will be faced as selectmen and finance committee members review the town's requirements in the 80's.

Among the issues Clark sees as facing the town are additional personnel in the police and fire departments, a director of public health and a review of the town's financial management practices.

Clark sees a need for increased personnel in the public safety departments as simply meeting the town's growth. There have been no major personnel increases in either the police or fire departments in recent years, while the town has continued to grow, particularly in outlying areas.

Clark will also be discussing with selectmen the possibility of naming a director of the public health department. This area of municipal service also has grown, not only in services provided, but responsibilities for many inspection services as well, some mandated by the state.

Clark feels the growth of activity and responsibility in this area must be addressed in the coming year.

The manager feels the financial management area of the town should be examined to determine if it is operating as efficiently as possible with existing per-

Elm Square Hearing Wednesday

Elm Square improvements, as well as other alterations along Main Street are scheduled for public airing next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall Library.

The Department of Community Development and Planning is scheduled to make a presentation explaining the proposed alterations which include modernizing of traffic signals, adding new signs and pavement markings, and narrowing the square.

Proposed changes also include making Barnard Street one way, as well as Park Street between Main Street and Bartlet Street.

Members of the public attending the meeting will be allowed to ask questions following presentation, and representatives of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works will attend.

School Locker Burned

Vandalism is listed as the probable cause of a fire which destroyed a locker and contents at Andover High school Monday morning.

Andover firefighters were called to the scene at 9:57 a.m. to extinguish the fire in a locker which contained two coats and a down vest.

Principal Philip Wormwood said that when he and Asst. Principal Stephen Richardson arrived at the locker it was too hot to open. He said he then pulled the alarm, and by the time the firemen arrived, Richardson had pried the door open with a tool and used an extinguisher on the blaze.

Students were evacuated from the building, but returned shortly after.

Fire officials said no accelerants were found at the scene and damage to the surrounding area was light. There was considerable smoke in the corridors due to the fire.

Sen. Tsongas To Give Stearns Lecture At P.A.

United States Senator Paul E. Tsongas will deliver the 49th Alfred E. Stearns Lecture at Phillips Academy, Friday, Nov. 30. He will be presented by the Academy's Friday Forum as the second in its series of speakers on public affairs. The public is invited to the Stearns Lecture in George Washington Hall at 8 p.m. No admission will be charged.

The junior senator from Massachusetts has won national attention for outspoken positions on his chief interests: energy, where he is an environmentalist favoring funding of conservation measures and caution on expansion of nuclear energy plants; revitalization of older cities, and South African affairs. Although elected to the Senate just a year ago, Tsongas already is on two of its most influential committees: the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, and the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs. He also is a member of the bipartisan Senate-House Adhoc Monitoring Committee on South Africa.

Senator Tsongas was U.S. Representative from Massachusetts' Fifth Congressional District, including Andover, Greater Lawrence, and Lowell, 1975-78. While in private law practice from 1971 to 1974, he was Middlesex County Commissioner, 1973-74, while studying at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard, and was Lowell City Councillor for two years before that. He was a Deputy Assistant Attorney General, 1969-71. Phillips Academy's 1979 Stearns Lecturer was a Peace Corps Volunteer in Ethiopia, 1962-64, and a Peace Corps administrator, 1967-68. He is a graduate of Lowell High School, Dartmouth College and Yale Law School (1967).

The Alfred E. Stearns Foundation was established in 1926 by an alumnus benefactor, Thomas Cochran, in order to bring distinguished speakers to the student body and to honor the man who was Phillips Academy's headmaster for most of the first third of the 20th century. Stearns Lecturers in the past have included Robert Hutchins, Robert Frost, Archibald MacLeish, Samuel Eliot Morison, Daniel Patrick Moynihan, Dr. Robert Coles and, last year, the poet May Sarton.

Elected Fellow

Robert C. Stone has been elected a Fellow of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants. He is a Senior Auditor with Inforex, Inc. in Burlington.

Stone graduated from Suffolk University with a Bachelors degree in Accounting and a Masters degree in Finance in 1972.

The Massachusetts Society of CPAs is an organization of over 4500 members founded in 1900 to promote and maintain the high standards of the voluntary efforts of its member.

Stone resides in Andover with his wife.

To Visit Salem Sunday

On Sunday, Nov. 25 the Department of Community Services is taking a day trip into witch country, U.S.A. and a city rich in Early American History, Salem, Mass.

Salem as a modern community still retains more of the flavor and physical appearance of the past than any other New England community. Salem's museums offer a wealth of information on Early American History.

The trip includes a visit to the Salem Maritime National Historic Site which will show you facts about ships, ship equipment, cargo, imports and harbors, all within Early American flair.

Another stop along the route will be paid to the Peabody Museum where there are artifacts of sea life, whaling, import trade, navigation, and much more.

The bus is leaving the East Jr. High School at 10 a.m. and will return at approximately 4 p.m. Special bus fares are available for children. Sign up at the Andover Department of Community Services office, 36 Bartlet St.

In Project

Mrs. Robert Clark, Mrs. Robert Ramsdell, and Ms. Adeline Wright, of Andover, are among 50 volunteers taking part this year in Project Eye-Opener at Boston's Museum of Science.

Started 11 years ago, Project Eye-Opener offers second graders of inner-city schools an opportunity for a free Museum visit. Every Monday during the school term trained volunteers guide the children through exhibit halls and introduce them to live animals. Because each volunteer guides only four to eight children, he or she establishes a personal relationship and helps them feel at ease. About 6000 children attend annually.

Still Life On Exhibit At Addison Gallery

Still Life Exhibit At Gallery

A didactic exhibition of approximately 100 years of American Still Life painting, drawing, prints and photography presently on view at the Addison Gallery of American Art, Phillips Academy, Andover, through Dec. 12, examines many variations of this curious but persistent archetype which has survived epochs of cultural change. Sometimes denigrated as minor art, other times celebrated as the most personal and visionary genre, the still life — perhaps because of its malleability and capacity to perform as the perfect uncomplaining model — has fascinated generations of artists.

Drawn from the museum's collection, with several additional loans, the exhibition is comprised of 59 works. Beginning with craft related folk-still life painting of the early 19th century, the exhibit threads through the quiet trompe l'oeil theatre of William Harnett and John Peto. The impact of cubism on American artists is seen in works by Alfred Maurer, Bradley W. Tomlin and Stuart Davis. The pluralism of the late 1930's and '40's is suggested in works by Edward Weston, Gregory Prestopino, Maud Morgan, Gardiner Cox and Walter Murch. The exhibit is brought up to date by artists as diverse as Richard Estes, Jan Groover, Bruce Conner, and Dana Chandler.

While the organization and presentation is chronological, this is not a complete survey of American still life imagery.

Rather, it attempts to provide insight into the essence of the concept called still life. Toward this end, works are included which, although not strictly still lifes, have qualities inherent to or derived from the still life archetype. The exhibit also explores the "metaphysical curiosity" of still lifes. Many of the images are much more profound than the humble subject matter of which they are comprised. Ordinary objects slightly altered and installed in superbly magical environments not quite real provide flights of fantasy sometimes much more provocative than larger, "serious" works. This exhibition calls attention to some of the ways in which still life achieves this magic.

A catalogue of notes to the exhibit is provided to assist in approaching the works which are organized roughly chronologically in four galleries, plus the hallway. The notes for the first three galleries, plus hallway, are essentially informational. The notes for the last gallery

Energy Assistance For Andover's Elders

Slacks are at least a degree warmer than skirts.

THE TOWNSMAN, NOVEMBER 21, 1979

Fixed incomes and increased fuel costs don't mix. Many senior citizens will be placed in a difficult financial situation this winter as they try to live with increasing fuel costs.

In Andover, we will be working with the Greater Lawrence Community Action Council and the Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley, Inc. to meet the energy needs of our older residents," Dorothy M. Winn, Haven director, announced. Assistance will be available

Wreathmaking

Massachusetts Audubon's Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary is sponsoring a workshop on making Christmas wreaths and swags using natural materials and greens. The workshop is being offered on two days so one can choose either Wednesday, Dec. 5 or Thursday, Dec. 6 from 9:30 to 2:30. For more information and registration call the program office.

through the Andover Council on Aging's office. Persons requiring assistance with fuel bills and other energy related problems should contact the Senior Center at 475-4165 or 475-3968.

To be eligible for energy assistance, households must be experiencing an energy related crisis which may be endangering life or health and/or creating substantially increased energy cost. Eligible households may receive up to $400 in assistance payments or the amount that is required to rectify the crisis situation, whichever is less.

Applicants for assistance should have the following information available to aid in processing their applications: photostat copies of Social Security, SSI, VA pension, pension and income checks. For further information, contact the Greater Lawrence Community Action Council's Fuel Assistance office or the Andover Senior Citizens' Center.

Students Gift The Elderly

Sanborn School students are scheduled to deliver gifts to the elderly and shut-ins this morning as part of the school's Harvest Thanksgiving Festival and the International year of the child.

Gifts of food, flowers, potted plants and baked goods were collected earlier this week for the festival. Yesterday afternoon, an assembly of students was held to stress the value of sharing and caring for one another.

The intent of the festival was to impress on the children the value of giving, according to the sponsors of the drive.

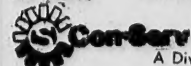

150 Tons

The blue whale is the largest animal ever to live on earth, 150 tons. It strains its food (krill, shrimp) through the sieve-like baleen in its mouth; the throat can swallow nothing larger than a sardine, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Former Vale Couple Acquires Ipswich Land

A 150-acre Ipswich apple orchard is now the home of former Ballardvale resident Max Russell, and is protected forever from development.

Russell bought the orchard with its 15-room farmhouse and a barn from a group called The Friends of Goodale Orchard, who bought the land with the hope of finding a buyer like Russell to fix up the two buildings and rejuvenate the orchard of 50-year-old trees.

Helping him with the work involved in such a project are Russell his wife, Meredith, and four sons; Matthew, a junior at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Aaron, 15, Jason, 16, and Douglas, 18. Russell has a daughter, Laura, 21, who lives in Utah.

Matthew, who is alleged to be able to fix anything, said, "The appealing thing about the place is that there is so much work to be done."

Chamber Music Concert In Marblehead

Boston Symphony Flutist, Fenwick Smith, and Carolyn Skelton, harpsichord-organ, will play an all Bach program in St. Michael's Church, Marblehead, on Sunday, Nov. 25 at 7:30 p.m. Works will include Bach's Sonata in E flat major, BWV 1031 for flute and harpsichord, Partita in A minor, BWV 1013 for flute solo; Triosonata No. 5 in C major, BWV 529, for organ; and Sonata in A major, BWV 1032, for flute and harpsichord.

Fenwick Smith is the most recent appointment to the flute section of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, having succeeded the late James Pappoutsakis.

Carolyn Skelton is an accomplished keyboard player who teaches at Phillips Academy and serves as the chapel organist.

The all Bach program is the first in a series of chamber music programs at St. Michael's Church, Marblehead, featuring members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and prominent keyboard players of the greater Boston area.

All tickets may be purchased at the door.

Tacked on to the deed for the property was a clause which insures that the entire tract will remain agricultural forever, except for one corner. It was for the right of adding this clause that the Friends purchased the land. This is the first such agricultural restriction made on property in Massachusetts.

It took the Friends several months of searching to find someone willing to purchase the land with its restrictions, but it finally found Russell.

Why did he buy?

Russell, a 20-year aerodynamics executive, had a simple answer: he wasn't seeing his family enough.

Antiques Show

Again this year, Thanksgiving weekend will bring antique buffs to enjoy what has become a tradition on the North Shore — the seventh annual Peabody Museum of Salem Antiques Show at Hamilton Hall. Dedication of this year's show and show catalogue to the museum director, Ernest S. Dodge, makes it a particularly special occasion.

"We're introducing a new feature this year," reports Show Manager, Christine Vining. "Museum guides will lead informative gallery walks, pointing out the highlights of the furnishings and collectibles on display, Saturday morning at 11 a.m." To ensure an ample number of guides, the Museum requests advance reservations for these tours.

Sap Is Fuel

The sap of a Brazilian tree is diesel fuel which can be burned in cars, Mass. Audubon notes. The copa-iba, 'Copaifera langsdorfii,' reduces carbon dioxide to sesquiterpene hydrocarbons. A tree 30 meters tall yields 10 to 20 liters in two hours. Retapping is possible at six-month intervals.

Energy Tips

In cool climates, tall hedges and evergreens provide good windbreak protection. Planted on the north side of the house, or the side of prevalent winter winds, these natural windbreaks prevent heat loss from the home. Research has shown fuel savings of up to 40 percent from properly planted windbreaks.

Memorial Hall Library

Films-on-Fridays for pre-schoolers will not be shown this week.

Harlan County, U.S.A.

The last in the mini-series of documentaries, "Harlan County, U.S.A.," will be shown at Memorial Hall Library on Friday, Nov. 23 at 7:30 p.m.

Winner of the 1976 Academy Award for best feature documentary, the film explores the coal mining industry and the 1973 strike against Duke Power Co. Partisan toward the miners, the film attacks the utility's insensitivity and blatant disregard for the mine workers' health, safety and humanity. The rampant corruption within the UMW is also examined.

The Friday Feature Films at Memorial Hall Library have been coordinated by Staff Librarian Sue Hurwitz and have been shown free of charge through the services of the Eastern Mass. Regional Library System, a program funded by the Commonwealth of Mass.

Great Books Group Will Meet

The Great Books Discussion Group will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the Print Room of Memorial Hall Library. Selected poems by W.H. Auden, Walt Whitman, T.S. Eliot and Ogden Nash will be discussed. Interested persons may join the group at any time.

Guide To The U.S. Supreme Court

A new reference book on the U.S. Supreme Court by the publishers of Congressional Quarterly has been added to the reference collection at Memorial Hall Library. Included are such topics as origins and development, members and important decisions of the court. "Guide to the U.S. Supreme Court" is a highly valuable, well written reference for students and the informed layman in a subject that is usually oversimplified or suffocated by legal jargon.

Children's Room News By Bridget Bennett

Don't forget on Saturday, Nov. 24 at 2 p.m., there will be another in our film series for children in grades three to six. This week it will be three hilarious short films featuring the Magnificent 6½ Gang. Tickets will be available in the Children's Room after 1:30 p.m.

Fireplace

The warmth from a fire on the hearth generally doesn't radiate through the house; the heat gain is confined to the room with the fireplace. And when the furnace is on too, a considerable amount of heated air from the rest of the house flows into the fireplace and goes wastefully up the chimney. Then the temperature in other rooms of the house goes down, and the furnace uses more fuel to raise it to the level controlled by the thermostat.

East Promotes Year Of The Child

Skits in three languages and a slide show were part of the East Junior High assembly held in observance of the International Year of the Child. The foreign language department presented short plays in French, Spanish and Latin as the first part of the show. Slides of children around the world, including some from East made up a slide show which was set to music. Shown here are Floyd Greenwood and Cathy Merrill, cast members of the Latin skit.

East Jr. High Happenings

By Amy Higgins
And Heidi Lasch

East Junior High held its annual pep rally to encourage students to come and support their team at the East vs. West Freshmen Football Championship. The theme of the pep rally was "Whale on West!" and we did! The final score was 16-0 with Greg Sacco being the outstanding player. East now has an undefeated record and we have won the league championship for the first time in the history of our school.

The eighth grade football team also defeated West in its annual game by a score of 8-6.

The eighth grade soccer team coached by Charles Labelle finished its season with a 7-2 victory. This game was the second best played ever by the East soccer team. Zack Apgar was the team's high scorer followed by Jim Denoncourt.

The field hockey team coached by Maripat Moriarty finished its season with a 5-3-1 record. Ninth grader Jana Caldwell was the team's high scorer for the season with six points.

The Drama Club production of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," will be presented Dec. 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. in the East Junior High auditorium. Accompanying on the piano will be Miss Kathleen Mohan and choreography is being supervised by Miss Susan Brown.

The annual can food drive conducted here at East came to its conclusion Monday with a total of 3,395 cans being donated by the students. This is 63 cans more than last year. This is especially significant for there are fewer students attending East this year than last year. School wide, Homeroom 300 with a total of 227 was the winner. Grade 8, Homeroom 505 donated 110 cans and Grade 9, Homeroom 609 donated 134 cans. All the canned food collected will be given to the Greater Lawrence Salvation Army.

Last week the math league participated in a math meet at West Junior High. The team placed second out of nine teams that participated. East students who are members of the math team include: 9th graders: Ted Silverman, Mancy Trepanier, Melissa Hodes, Mukda Lanouette; 8th graders: Kirk Orrell, Mike Drozdick, Joby Bardetti, Tim Wright, Paul Kinsella, Alex Niedzwiecki, Sean Burns; 7th Graders: Kim Olsen, Chris Liou, Peter McDonald, Jeff Vogel. Congratulations to Tim Wright and Mike Drozdick who had perfect scores. The team advisor is Miss Maureen McDevitt of the East faculty.

The Student of the Month awards were presented to Peter MacDonald, 7th grade; Zack Apgar, 8th grade, and Jana Caldwell, 9th grade, for their outstanding achievements. This is the first year these awards have been given at East. The students are nominated by their fellow students and faculty. A committee of Administration, Faculty and Student Council members select the winners. The awards are based on school work, sports, extra-curricular activities, human relations, and service to the school.

Homeroom 204 was awarded a free school lunch for having the best attendance record of the school for the past month. The homeroom teacher is Mr. Gary Hendrickson.

At our most recent assembly, the Amati String Quartet played a number of Beethoven, Mozart and Dvorak pieces following which they answered questions asked by students. This interesting assembly was arranged through the music department.

THE TOWNSMAN, NOVEMBER 21, 1979

WESTern Roundup

By Tricia Gannon

The second quarter has begun and, it is like the first quarter, the results will be very exciting for West Junior High.

The ninth grade football team finished their season with their last game on Saturday, Nov. 17 against the Central Catholic Junior Varsity team. Outstanding players this season were Andy Emmert, Tom Kananam, Chris Coots and E. J. Perry.

Rehearsals for the annual school play began this week. Mrs. Doris Bernardin has cast all the parts and some of the students and their roles are: Mike Epstein-Geroge Brewster, Ann Gilmore-

Velma, Guy Brooksbank-Fred Berglass, Sylvia Boloia-Miss Woebegone, Tricia Gannon-Miss Butterworth, and Chris Tessman-Melissa. This year's production is 'Toga, Toga, Toga' by Tim Kelly.

Last Friday, Nov. 16, Ralph Duncan, an eighth grade Social Studies teacher at W.J.H., visited the ninth grade English Curriculum Heights Opportunity (ECHO) class. ECHO is a course for gifted and talented students in the junior high. Duncan told the class of his experiences this summer on his trip to China. He was the first of a series of faculty celebrities to speak to ECHO students. This program has been organized by the head of the English Department at West, Mrs. Nora Harrison who also teaches the course.

Living Newspaper

On Friday, Nov. 23, at 2:30 p.m., the "Living Newspaper" will be performed at the Essex Institute. The performance, by the Newbury Street Theater of Boston, consists of one hour of scenes and songs of social satire about current life and public issues. It will include comments on women, work, group relations, and other similar groups sponsored by the Federal Theater Project during the 1930's.

This event is another in the series of special events being sponsored by the Essex Institute in connection with the exhibition "Life and Times in Shoe City: The Shoe Workerse of Lynn." The performance is supported by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

There is no admission fee. The Essex Institute is located at 132 Essex St., Salem.

Smart money. Interest-only loans.

Harbor Equity Funds introduces an innovative second mortgage arrangement with unique advantages for you, the borrower.

Interest-Only Payments.

A very practical idea in inflationary times — but one which is usually not available. Your monthly payment during the term of the loan is of interest only — the full amount of the principal is due only at the end of the term of the loan. As a practical matter, this means your monthly payment will be lower than alternative lending arrangements, and each payment is totally tax deductible.

And with continuing inflation, just as your property has increased in value, the value of

Off Hours

During late afternoon and early evening hours, the load on the Nation's electrical systems usually reaches its peak. To meet the heavy demand, electric systems usually reaches its peak. To meet the heavy demand, electric utilities often must use backup generating equipment that is not energy efficient. Try to use energy-intensive appliances such as dishwashers, clothes washers and dryers, and electric ovens in the early morning or late evening hours to help reduce that peakload.

A.H.S. Notebook

By Renee Pruneau

Andover High has a rather unique counseling system. It is a program where students counsel other students. It is only a year old in Andover and relatively a new procedure throughout the country.

Students spend one Semester in training. At the end of the semester, there is a weekend training seminar where everything which has been learned is culminated into a final learning session.

Students work in a big brother and big sister program. They man a hot line where there are answers to questions concerning sex, drugs, family relationships, alcohol and school. The number for anyone to call, student or parent is: 470-1700, ask for the peer counseling extension. Students also talk and help to counsel other students. Seminars are held throughout the year where parents are invited to share views with students on drugs and alcohol. Speakers are also invited for the students of A.H.S. Recently, there was a speaker on "Lines Guys use on Girls."

There are some students who go to Andover's other schools where they help these students to become more aware of themselves.

Andover's Peer Counseling program has a drop-in center in the high school where pamphlets and friends can always be found.

This center has been used as a model for other centers throughout the state. Many students have taken advantage of the many services the center offers. It is easily the most successful nsw program instituted in the high school in many years.

Museum Sale

Hundreds of art objects including sculpture, stained glass, paintings, prints, pottery, and much more will be offered at the Boston Museum School's First Annual Benefit Sale of 'Fine Arts and Crafts' from Dec. 5 through 23. Net proceeds from the sale will go towards the $4.1 million dollar Fund Drive to complete the School of the Museum of Fine Arts.

Outstanding works by Museum School faculty, renowned alumni, and accomplished students will be displayed in a "warehouse setting" with crates, barrels and ladders in the MFA's grand Tapestry Hall. Says Steve Lennox, co-ordinator of the Benefit Sale, "We chose to keep the installation of the objects simple and without frills so that the prices of the works themselves could be kept within a reasonable price range." The art will range in price from as low as $1 for an original gift card to $2000 for a 22 karat gold necklace set with an opal, to thousands of dollars for works by some of Boston's finest artists and craftsmen.

Edible

Twenty plant species produce 90 percent of the world's food; 80,000 kinds of plants are considered edible, Massachusetts Audubon says.

Young Winemaker Continues Old Tradition

Winemaker Tom Ferrell

The "little old winemaker" at California's Inglenook Vineyards doesn't exactly fit the proverbial image.

A former football player at the University of California at Davis, Tom Ferrell began studying wines, he says, because he liked to drink them.

Now only 34, with a Davis degree in enology under his belt, he's been making wines at Inglenook for nearly nine years, and has been winning awards in Europe as well as his own Napa Valley.

He has paid particular attention to developing Inglenook whites, while maintaining a 100-year-old tradition in its reds.

Ferrell believes there's little reason to go to European wines, particularly at today's import prices, and New England is one of Inglenook's biggest markets. The Inglenook Navalle jug wines are perhaps the most familiar, and they're served as "house" wines by many restaurants, including the Magic Pan.

But the "premium" wine market has been growing and Inglenook has continued to introduce very limited quality wines. Inglenook's 1977 Blanc de Noir and Muscat Blanc are examples of these "boutique" wines, some of which are available only at the old stone winery set into the Rutherford hillside, 60 miles north of San Francisco.

Inglenook means "warm or cozy corner" in Scottish, and the location was chosen in 1879 by wealthy self-made Capt. Gustave Niebaum, when he quit the sea to seek his dream of creating a California winery whose products would rival the best of Europe.

There have been many outstanding Cabernet vintages in particular, during Inglenook's 100 years, beginning with the pre-1900 vintages of 1887 and 1892. Those are considered classic examples of the vineyard style of Niebaum himself, and command enormous prices at auction and among connoisseurs today.

It was fitting, perhaps, that the Estate-Bottled Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon Cask 1974 was selected as Inglenook's Centennial Selection Wine. Now released for sale in most major American cities, Ferrell says it's reminiscent of the great Inglenook Cabernets of the 40's, in a full-bodied style, with a well-developed Cabernet aroma and rich, ruby color.

It's "very drinkable now," he says, adding that it will also improve for many years with additional bottle aging.

The 1970 vintage Cabernet Sauvignon is also considered a rival of predecessors.

A Sampler

Inglenook's table wines are grouped by three wine growing areas and labels: Napa Valley, North Coast Counties (Mendocino, Napa, Lake and Sonoma) and California.

The Estate-Bottled and Cask Limited Bottling varietal wines, the top of the Inglenook line, are produced solely from the highest quality grapes grown in the Napa Valley. They include Chenin Blanc, Cabernet Sauvignon, Fume Blanc, Blanc de Noir, Muscat Blanc, Charbono, Zinfandel, Petite Sirah, Pinot Chardonnay, Gewurztraminer, Johannisberg, Riesling, White Pinot, Grey Riesling, Pinot St. George, Pinot Noir, Gamay Beaujolais and Gamay Rose.

The Inglenook Vintage line is made from wine grapes grown in the North Coast Counties, and include Burgundy, Chablis, Rhine, and Cabernet. All wines carry the vintage year on the label.

The Inglenook Navalle line includes Zinfandel, Chablis, Burgundy, Rhine, Vin Rose, Riesling, French Colombard, Chenin Blanc and Ruby Cabernet, and the winery rounds out its production with a line of premium dessert wines: Medium Dry Sherry, Pale Dry Sherry, Cream Sherry, Tawny Port and Ruby Port.

Visitors are welcome down in the stone vaults with floors of neatly raked gravel, to view oaken casks of Capt. Niebaum's day. But additional plantings of varietal grapes, the latest winery equipment and the best French and American oak cooperage for slowly aging wines, transport one into the 20th century as well.

Public tours are conducted daily, from 1 a.m. to 5 p.m., except Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day.

Icy or snowy roads are not the only possibilities for a skidding accident. Wet leaves, oil, loose gravel and early morning frost can be just as dangerous.

Electronic Co. Participates In Project

Massachusetts Electric Company has been selected to participate in Department of Energy (DOE) wind energy research project.

Mass. Electric will buy the excellent power produced by a residential windmill in Williamstown.

The 1.5 kilowatt wind energy system will be supplied by DOE to a Williamstown resident free of charge for approximately two years. The windmill may provide up to an average of 50 percent of the resident's electrical energy needs.

DOE will install the windmill as part of a federally funded research program to study the viability of wind energy systems throughout the country.

"Participation in DOE's windmill project dovetails with Mass. Electric's recently announced 15-year energy plan which focuses, in part, on expanded use of alternate energy sources," explained William Cadigan, president of Mass. Electric.

The Mass. Office of Energy Resources, which also is participating in the project, chose Williamstown from more than 400 applications because the agency felt the site best typifies a semi-rural area served by a major utility.

Weather permitting, the windmill will be installed by the end of this year.

Correction

Willard Walsh, newly appointed constable, was incorrectly listed in a recent story as having retired from the Middlesex National Bank. Walsh, 186 Salem St., retired as manager of the Malden Co-Operative Bank's, North Reading office.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Come on down to The Haven this afternoon — Wednesday, Nov. 21 — and you'll hear The Haven Singers perform. They had expected to be at the Prescott Nursing Home today, but plans were changed and they'll be at The Haven instead — at 2 o'clock.

The trip to the Arts & Crafts Expo and lunch at Jimmy's Harborside scheduled for the day after Thanksgiving, has been cancelled.

The Haven will be closed Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, but will be open on Friday as usual.

The Haven movie for Monday, Nov. 26, will be "Touring the Great Cities." An easy way to travel. It starts at 2 p.m. and of course, it's free.

Assessor William Russell will be guest speaker Tuesday morning at The Haven as part of the Know Your Town series at 10 o'clock. You'll hear about 100% valuation and classification and abatements for the over-65 citizen, plus opportunity to ask lots of questions. This is your golden opportunity to really be "in the know" on tax matters. Come on down — Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 10 a.m.

The Free Flu Clinic will be held Wednesday, the 28th at Doherty School. If you need transportation, call The Haven Monday or Tuesday to arrange a pick-up. The morning of the 29th there will be a demonstration of liquid embroidery at The Haven at 10 o'clock. Ann Steward is the demonstrator.

The Christmas Ornament Workshop, scheduled for Nov. 30, has been rescheduled to Dec. 7 at 10 a.m. Even if you did not sign up for it in the fall, there will still be room for you.

Been thinking about the Annual Haven Christmas Party? It will be held Dec. 13 from 5:30 to 9 p.m. at West Junior High. The menu includes boneless breast of chicken and the entertainment will be by members of Musicians' Local 252 — and all for $3. But you must get your tickets right away. None will be available after

Dec. 11, and possibly, if they go as fast as they have in the past, even before that. Stop by The Haven today to get yours.

You might be thinking of fun things to do before Christmas and you should consider attending that Broadway musical, "Annie" — Dec. 19. The Haven is sending a busload in to Boston with tickets for orchestra seats — and all for $19 if you sign up before Nov. 30. It'll cost $20 if you wait 'til later. They plan to leave at 12:30 and return about 5.

Shopping at the Manchester Mall is scheduled for Dec. 6. Call The Haven.

Don't Rev

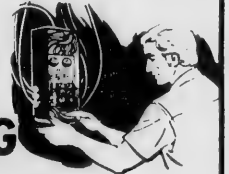

Don't rev up the engine and quickly shut it off, thinking you've primed it to restart later. All you've done is dump raw fuel onto cylinder walls where it will wash away the protective oil film and increase engine wear when you restart. It's also a waste of gasoline.

Among the buildings to be discussed for continued municipal use or to be disposed of at a hearing next Tuesday night at the Senior Center, on Essex street are the West Andover Community building, top; Bradlee School, Ballardvale and the community building on Iceland Road, Shawsheen, currently owned by the conservation commission.

Hearing On Facilities Tuesday

The Facility Study Committee of the Community Services committee will hold a public hearing Tuesday night at the Senior Citizen Center on Essex street, to hear views on the buildings now owned by the town and shown on these pages. Purpose of the study is to determine which buildings continue to be of value for municipal use and which ones should be disposed of and possibly result in going to private use and returning to the tax roles. This will be the final opportunity for public input on the facilities before the committee makes its report and recommendations.

Joseph R. Ouellette, C.P.O.

Andover Crime Prevention Officer Joseph R. Ouellette will start Andover's crime prevention program by talking to local merchants about how to defend against shoplifters during the holiday season, when stores are more crowded.

He offered as a tip to women shoppers that they not carry handbags which can be easily snatched while they shop, and that they use a wallet instead to carry cash in.

Ouellette recently completed an 80-hour crime prevention course at Pine Manor College, Brookline, where course work included history and principles of crime prevention, checks and credit card fraud, security lighting, electronic intrusion devices, locking devices, safes, armed robbery, security surveys, rape prevention, shoplifting and public information procedures.

As crime prevention officer, Ouellette will be charged with setting up an Andover "Crime Watch," as part of a state/funded crime prevention program. The crime watch may eventually include lectures in crime prevention, security checks of persons' homes and distribution of printed material on crime prevention.

The object of the crime watch is to educate citizens in how to protect themselves and their property from criminals. One way Ouellette said he would like to do this is to establish a program whereby he can inspect private homes, and make recommendations about how to make them more burglar proof.

"I'm not saying we're going to prevent a burglar from breaking in," Ouellette said, "but we're going to make it as tough as possible."

The first step of the program, Ouellette said, is for him to conduct a training program within the police department, so he can share what he learned with other officers. Then all members of the force can assist to some degree in providing the public with crime prevention information.

Sgt. James Johnson, administrative assistant to the police chief, favors the idea of the crime watch, Ouellette said, and urged Ouellette to take the crime prevention course.

About 35 police departments from throughout the state sent members to the Pine Manor course. Instruction was arranged and directed by the Mass. Criminal Justice Training Council and assisted by the Municipal Police Institute through its Mass. Crime Prevention Bureau.

The Panama Canal was built in 1920.

Combined Maintenance Operations To Be Studied

Areas where school and town building maintenance may overlap are being studied by the school superintendent and town manager at the request of the new public building maintenance committee.

The group is made up of two members each of the school committee, finance committee and the board of selectmen, and met Monday night to discuss the possibility of centralizing some maintenance functions.

The committee agreed to first determine what maintenance positions exist both in the school department and in the town administration which might be more efficiently manned by a shared staff.

As part of this, Supt. Kenneth Seifert and Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark will also explore areas where the school and town buildings have similar maintenance needs and where new shared personnel might prove economical.

The town manager and superintendent agreed to tell committee members within the week when this initial investigation will be completed.

The next step agreed on by the committee will be setting maintenance priorities, possibly with the help of an outside consultant. The third step will be setting up the structure by which the shared personnel will be administered.

The committee also favored breaking large maintenance projects out of general maintenance budgets and presenting them to town meeting as separate warrant articles.

An alternate plan was to establish a central services department which would have its own budget and would handle the major repair work. The decision on which mechanism to use will fall under the third step of the committee's action.

The committee was formed to see if the town could now share the services of a plant engineer with the school department, as was planned when the engineer was hired three years ago.

None of the committee members opposed the streamlining of the maintenance operations, but some problems were raised. Seifert pointed out that manpower may be a drawback, since current staffing is "less than satisfactory."

Al Hart, school plant engineer, was delayed from preparing a school preventive maintenance schedule until recently because he found too many problems which needed immediate attention, Seifert said.

Clark said he favored centralizing the maintenance effort as much as possible, and wanted to see it extended to grounds maintenance as well. He said now there are questions about what grass the town should mow and what grass the school department should mow.

Clark added that a decentralized maintenance system, with departments being charged for the maintenance of their own facilities, might add incentive for better care of buildings.

School Committee Chairman Elaine Viehmann said she wanted clear lines drawn between what would be considered minor maintenance and major maintenance which would be budgeted separately.

She also warned that maintenance priorities might not be easily set, saying they were not always black and white.

Although the decision on the mechanism by which the joint maintenance functions would be administered was delayed, some members of the committee clearly favored one over the other.

The FinCom's Frederick Fitzgerald and Selectman Susan T. Poore leaned toward forming a centralized services department, while Clark and the FinCom's Ruth Dunbar saw advantage in entering separate warrant articles for large maintenance projects.

Selectman James Abramson said he wanted major maintenance work listed separately for town meeting approval. He said that budgets like the school committee's, which lumps maintenance costs with other budget items, allows town meeting to cut appropriations generally, without showing where the cuts would be made.

However, he warned that the separate budget might act as a double-edged sword. An economy-minded town meeting might decide to let certain maintenance problems go in an effort to save money, Abramson said.

New Temple Opens Friday

Temple Emanuel will move to its new building at 7 Haggetts Pond Road, Andover, Friday evening.

All services and activities will take place at the new Temple beginning with the Sabbath Eve service on Friday to be preceded by special activity moving from the Lawrence building.

At 5 p.m. Friday a team of relay runners will leave the old Temple and hand carry a Torah Scroll to the new Temple.

At 7:30 p.m. on Friday, the congregation will gather at the old Temple and will leave at 7:45 p.m. with Torah Scrolls being carried out by past presidents. The motor-cade is due to arrive at the new Temple about 8 p.m.

The Sabbath Eve services will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the new sanctuary to the Torah processional. Scrolls will be carried and placed in ark by the current presidents of the Temple and Temple affiliates.

Official dedication of the new building, is scheduled for the weekend of May 17-19, 1980.

The new temple in Andover was built at a cost of approximately $1.1 million, including land acquisition and has been under construction for the past year.

Town Gets Funds For Salt Shed

Andover has been designated as one of 28 communities to receive funds for construction of a salt storage shed, according to State DPW Commissioner Dean P. Amidon.

A similar application a year ago was rejected by the state, but Andover DPW Director Robert E. McQuade reapplied and was informed this week of the state's decision.

McQuade said that the shed will probably not be built in time to be in service this year, but would be constructed at the Lewis Street town garage facilities area.

Approximate cost of the storage facility is $40,000.

The shed is a quonset hut type structure which has access for a front end loader.

The state currently has a salt storage shed of its own on its property in the Holt Hill area off the Route 125 bypass.

Commissioner Amidon stated that applications from 240 communities have been received by the department from which a list of those with the most critical needs were selected based on information supplied to the DPW by the Department of Environmental Quality Engineering.

'Friendly' Taking Expected

Selectmen were expected last night to take a sewer easement across the property of Robert Jurgin by "friendly" eminent domain.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said yesterday that he had talked to the Jurgin's, of 88 Summer St., and that it appeared they had reached agreement.

He said the Jurgin's were most concerned about protection of a large tree on their property, and that they be compensated for any water damage to their house resulting from construction of the sewer.

Clark said it appeared they would also receive $500, the same amount already promised to other property owners whose land is involved.

Selectmen were to meet in special session with the Jurgin's yesterday, and Clark said town crews could be on their property today.

The project involved is a sewer which has been laid down Lucerne Drive and across conservation land to hook up at Summer Street. While the sewer itself won't cross Jurgin's land, heavy equipment will have to use the easement there for construction access.

Thanksgiving

The most joyous season of the year is upon us as we pause to observe Thanksgiving.

A spirit of joy and friendliness prevails during this season of the year as Thanksgiving signals the beginning of the holiday season culminating with the Christmas and New Years observances.

Thanksgiving, a traditional New England and American holiday, marks the observance made by the Pilgrims centuries ago who paused to express thanks for a bountiful harvest which would prepare them for the rigors of winter.

That same spirit continues today.

Not that our problems disappear. With each passing year we face difficulties at home and abroad of varying import. Such problems and troubles don't disappear because of the season, but in some ways the holiday spirit aids in diminishing their severity, or in some cases, causes us to be truly thankful for our opportunities in a land blessed by freedom.

A peaceful world still remains elusive, with current focus on Iranian involvement.

We continue to be faced with energy-related problems and our economy is a bothersome subject at best.

But, tomorrow, as families gather for the Thanksgiving observance, these matters will be set aside and there will be the opportunity for the expression of the spirit of brotherhood.

And, throughout the holiday season there will be the continued expression of love and charity, a reflection of the true meaning of the season.

Preparations of the holiday meal and the overall observance today, is a far cry from the first Thanksgiving, based on the modern conveniences available.

But, the spirit remains the same as when the Pilgrims gathered — a time to pause and give thanks for all our blessings.

We remain grateful for His blessings the opportunity to rejoice and meet in a spirit of fellowship at this joyous season.

A Happy Thanksgiving to all!

Miss Faith Leonard who is well known in this town is to give dancing lessons in the November Club house in the coming season.

Miss Jane B. Carpenter, 26 Morton St., has for sale some hand-colored photographs of land and sea from the Lamson Studios, Portland. These make dainty and inexpensive Christmas gifts.

Thanksgiving day was very quiet in Andover yesterday there being nothing to take up the time. It is very unfortunate that the football game between the Andover Athletic Association and Bluestockings of North Andover was not played.

Benjamin F. Smith, Jr., has returned from a hunting trip in Maine with two fine specimens of the antler family.

Next Tuesday there will be a free lecture in the Phillips chapel by Charles Walton Seymour with the very timely subject "Frederick the Great."

50 Years Ago — November 1929

The enormous success of Ben Great's productions is due to his delightful personality and charm of the players of his company. There is no question that their performing of "Hamlet" in George Washington Hall Tuesday night held universal appeal that would be hard to equal.

Book Week, which was celebrated last week in the schools and in the junior room of the Memorial Hall Library, ended with a play which was given by a group of eleven boys and girls both in Andover and Ballardvale.

An Eagle Scout investiture, conferring the highest honor every received by an Andover Boy Scout, was conducted by officers of the North Essex Council in the Town Hall. Harry Gouck of Troop 2, David Petrie of Troop 2 and Rene A. Richard, Jr., of Troop 1, received the emblem from Dr. Nathaniel Stowers.

A social and supper at Seamen's Friend Society will be held in the West Church vestry, Friday at 7 o'clock. The ladies are requested to bring cake, as usual. Supper 25 cents.

Chief Smith has ordered all doors of stores and offices in the downtown area of town will be tried hourly between the hours of 9 p.m. and midnight and once every two hours from midnight to 6 a.m.

25 Years Ago — November 1954

The Andover Teachers' Association will present Mrs. Robert Richards of Groveland in a program "Christmas in Andover." This will be an illustrated lecture on how to use Christmas greens and other materials to make various Christmas decorations at a small cost.

The Christmas lights will be turned on Friday evening as part of the Andover Board of Trade program for the coming Yule holidays.

Installation of the new traffic control system in Elm Square is nearly completed and is expected to be put into operation early next week.

The Newcomers met Monday night at the Andover Inn where Mrs. Doris Arnfield spoke on graphology and made a short analysis of the handwriting of all the guests present.

The salary increases proposed by the Andover Teachers' Association were discussed last Thursday night at a special meeting of the school committee when one teacher's resignation was accepted and one new appointee was named.

10 Years Ago — November 1969

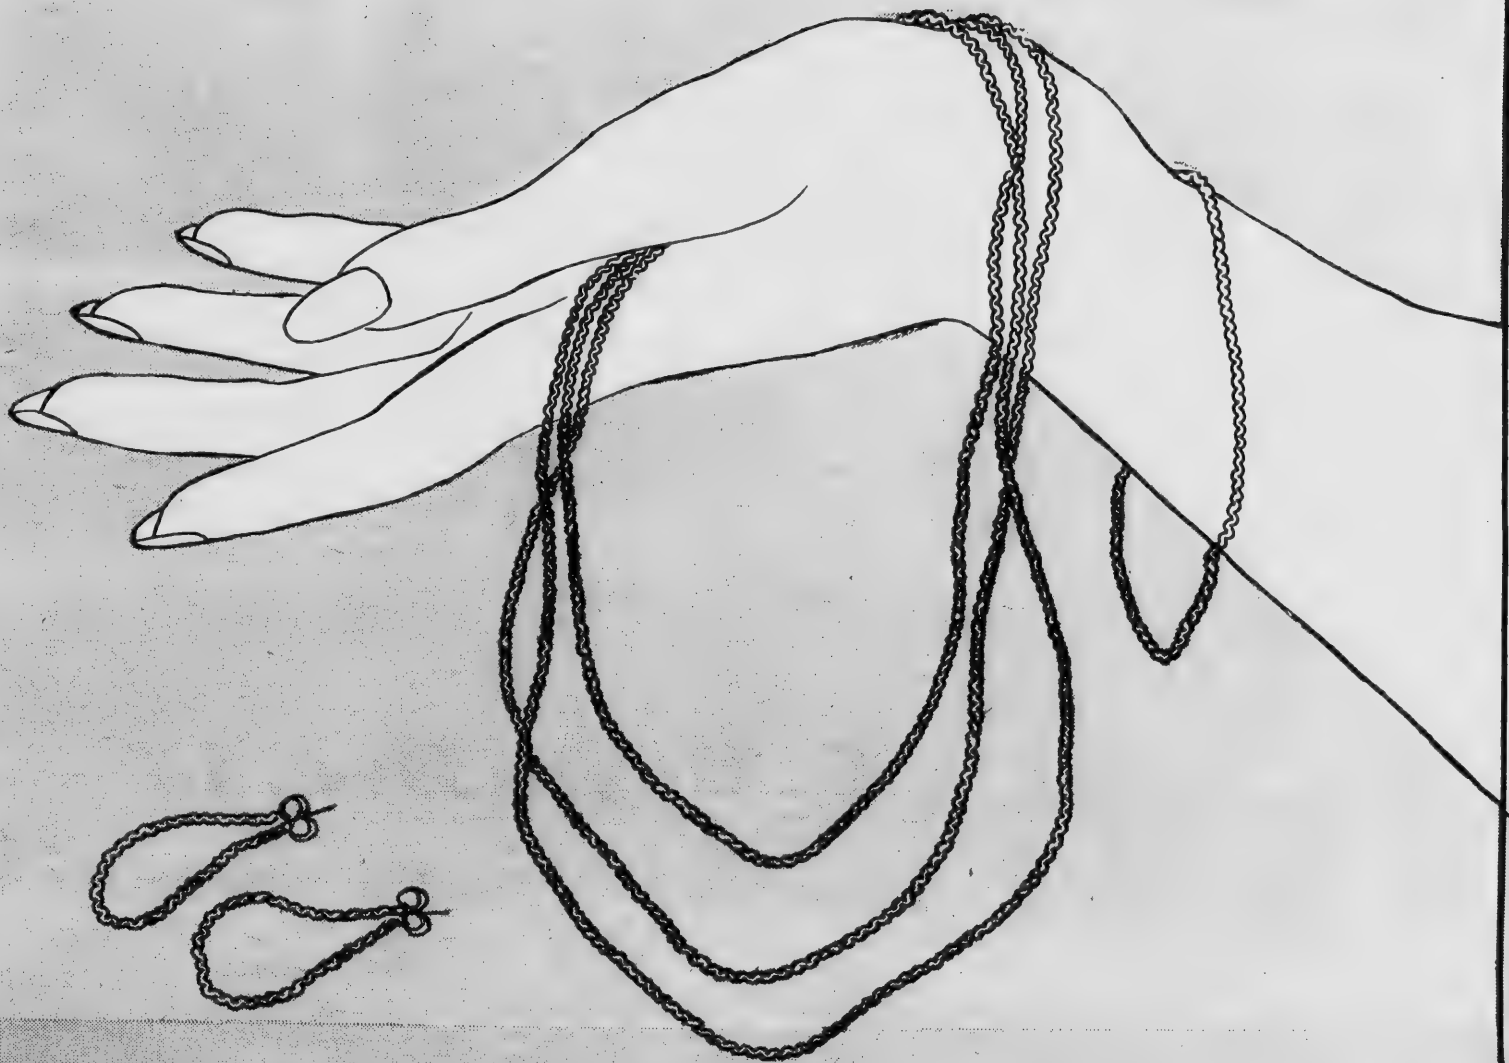

Mrs. Florence McGrath who has directed Andover's public school cafeterias is stepping down. She submitted her resignation to the school committee Tuesday night and it was accepted with deep regret.

This year, for the first time, pre-addressed tax forms will be sent to taxpayers from the North Atlantic Services Center on Lowell Street Prior to this year, the work was done at the IRS building on Lake Street Lawrence.

Brief ceremonies are scheduled for Thanksgiving morning at the Eugene V. Lovely Field prior to the kickoff of the Andover-North Andover football game on Thanksgiving. The field will be dedicated in memory of the late coach and principal of Punchard High School, who is a member of the Massachusetts High School Football Coaches Hall of Fame.

The school committee Tuesday night heard and approved plans for 10 half days of released time (curriculum time) for teachers for the remainder of the year.

Train Service To Begin Dec. 17

The Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority (MVRTA), which includes Andover among its six local communities that form a regional transportation provider, now projects a Dec. 17 start of train service to the Merrimack Valley, with five trains each way a day during rush hours serving Andover.

Randolph Lehman-Becker, Andover's designee to the Authority, has been informed that the service will include stops by all the trains at the Andover center station, and stops by four of the trains at Ballardvale and three at Shawsheen, in each direction per day. The service will operate on a weekday only basis, with inbound trains leaving Andover Center at 6:15, 6:35, 6:55, 7:35 and 8:25 a.m. daily, arriving in Boston 53 minutes later. Outbound departures from North Station will be at 4:30, 5:10, 5:30, 5:50, and 6:30 p.m., with the same travel time. The trains all travel the Reading route, and so all local stops below Reading will be included for entraining and detraining.

The new service will use mainly leased equipment formerly used by the Government of Ontario in service around Toronto. The modern, well-lighted cars offer electric heating and airconditioning, and operate in a push-pull configuration with a conventional diesel locomotive. The train stops will include the existing station at Shawsheen, a new platform and waiting area at Andover Center, north of the Essex Street crossing, and a new platform at Ballardvale north of the main crossing. The Andover Center station and Ballardvale have parking access close by. Bids have been let for the construction of the new platforms, and work will soon commence on restoration of the westside platform at Shawsheen. All stations will be lighted from Mass Electric, and the Center and Ballardvale stations will be handicap accessible.

Further information on the service is available from the MVRTA by calling 685-1560.

The MVRTA has recently increased its staff with the addition of transportation planner Meryl Mandell. Her specific work is the development of an energy contingency plan. The MVRTA, in anticipating a future in which energy restrictions may be commonplace, is developing a detailed, multistage program to cope with various levels of energy crises. Ms. Mandell will be developing base information about the region and its needs, community mobilization information, a series of options to meet the restrictions, systems of marketing of any alternatives, and development of management of fuel plans to conserve fuel allocated to the authority's contracted services.

The development of this energy contingency plan is essential to the regional and Andover to insure that a major energy "crunch" will not threaten the

Final Preparations

Andover High's Golden Warriors were going through final drills this week getting ready to close out their season against Central Catholic at Lawrence's Memorial Stadium at 10 a.m. Thanksgiving morning. Always a tough battle, the Warriors will be looking to close out their

Top Soccer Players

Soccer Players Honored

Members of the Boy's and Girl's High School Soccer teams along with parents and friends recently recieved awards and saluted the past season. With over 220 persons present, all the letter winners received their letters.

Pictured above are those Andover players who received recognition from the Merrimack Valley League. Steve Luby was Andover's only first team player. Jeff Nicastro anchored the second team from his position as goalie. Receiving honorable mention were Andover's high scorer Dave Hotham, with six goals. Dave eclipses last year's high scorer by one goal. Chuck Augello received honorable mention at defender.

Receiving Most Improved Player was Chuck Augello. This was made possible by his improvement from a junior varsity player last year to a first string defender who had to move to mid-field one third of the way through the season and brought his improvement and intensity with him to help put pressure on the opponent's defenses.

Dan Donovan was honored by his inclusion into the "500 Club." This is indicative of his achieving superior skills with a soccer ball by juggling 500 times or more in succession. Dan joins Mark Reed as the only two players to demonstrate this skill on the Soccer Team.

AHS Girl Swimmers Place High

On Saturday Nov. 10, the Massachusetts Interschool Girls North Sectional Swimming and Diving Championships were held in Medford. The Andover High girls 200 yard relay team consisting of Katie Scanlon, Cynthia Surret, Tricia Wright and Lisa Caputo broke the Andover High Record with a time of 2:04.7 They placed seventh in this event overall.

Power-Saver

If you're buying a refrigerator, it's energy economical to buy one with a power-save switch. Most refrigerators have heating elements in their walls or doors to prevent "sweating" on the outside, but in most climates, the heating element does not need to be working all the time. The power-saver switch turns off the heating element. By using it, you could save about 16 percent in refrigerator energy costs.

Bantam Hockey Team To Play In Canada

For the 14th consecutive year the Andover Hockey Association's Bantam "A" team has been invited to travel to Canada to play a series of hockey games against Canadian Bantam teams.

This year the Andover team of boys 13 and 14 years of age will travel to Ontario on Sunday, Feb. 17 and will return on Saturday, Feb. 23. While in Canada the team will play two games in Toronto and three games in Oshawa.

In addition, to laying five games, tours of government buildings, the Ontario Science Centre, the CN Tower (tallest free-standing structure in the world), and the Hockey Hall of Fame are planned. The team will be received at the City Hall in Toronto and will also make its annual visit with crippled children in the Bloorview Hospital on Toronto.

To help defray the cost of this trip the Bantam team members will conduct a door-to-door canvass of the town of Andover on Saturday, Nov. 24, Sunday, Nov. 25 and Sunday, Dec. 2. The team members, dressed in their hockey uniforms for easy identification, will be soliciting townspeople to become Andover Bantam Boosters at a membership fee of $1.

Support Group

A Separation and Divorce Support-Counseling Group will meet Tuesday evenings from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in Billerica. The group is led by a family counselor and trained group therapist, Ann Marie Sigdestad, A.C.S.W. The group is for people looking for ways to cope with the stress of separation. Feelings of hurt, loss, anger, relief, and loneliness will be discussed, along with facing the Holidays, dealing with one's children, former mate, relatives, friends, and the court system.

In the past these trips have proved to be most beneficial and educational to the boys involved. On these previous trips the boys' conduct, both on and off the ice, has been exemplary and is a source of community pride.

Currently playing for the Bantam "A" team are goalies Scott Round and Karl

Finish Season

Pike Girls Finish, 6-5

The Pike School girls' varsity soccer team ended its season with a 6-5 slate. After a slow start with losses to Concord Academy and Lawrence Academy, the team soon regrouped with confidence-building wins over Governor Dummer Academy and Pingree. While outclassed by Masconomet the girls were competitive with all other squads, the highlight of the season being a dramatic 1-0 victory over Brooks School in the final game.

The team featured a balanced scoring attack with ten different players wrinkling the twine, led by Tracey McCoy and Lee Lesynski with five goals each. Co-Captain Meredith Kattar contributed three goals despite missing much of the season due to injury. Kattar, with fellow Co-Captain Sue Perocchi, provided leadership through example, with her aggressive play.

The defense, anchored by Anna Kent at center halfback and Sue Perocchi at center fullback, thwarted many scoring chances with timely tackles. When opponents did get shots on net, Circe Dunnell often came up with key saves.

Right Turn Warning

Massachusetts will allow a right turn at a red light as of Jan. 1, 1980, but Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin issues a caution to motorists.

"Don't get the idea that right turns on red are going to be that common in our state. Nearly 2,700 intersections — or about nine out of ten — will be posted 'No Turn On Red,' the Registrar said.

"Massachusetts is a densely populated urban state with millions of pedestrians. The primary law governing the operation of any vehicle is the operator must have it under control at all times, and pedestrians have the right of way.

"At the new intersections where the right turn on red will be allowed, the operator must still treat it as a stop sign; that is, the vehicle must be brought to a complete stop before making the turn," the Registrar said.

McLaughlin added, "Don't be the first to acquire a no fix ticket by either ignoring the 'No Turn On Red' sign, or not stopping before making the turn. There is also a three year insurance surcharge imposed on those who run a red light."

McLaughlin also reminded motorists the new law does not go into effect in Massachusetts until January 1, although neighboring states already have it in force.

Electric Fish

Electricity is produced in an African electric fish, Gymnarchus niloticus, by eight tubular organs that run the length of the tail. Each organ has 200 electroplates (modified muscle cell with nerve supply) packed like a pile of coins, Mass. Audubon says. The plates are almost transparent and the entire organ has a jelly-like appearance.

Dillon Completes Training

Marine Pvt. Kenneth R. Dillon, son of George C. and Millie L. Obermeier of 7 Donald Circle, Andover, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

During the ten and one-half-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

A 1979 graduate of Andover High School, he joined the Marine Corps in July 1978.

You'll get the best fuel economy by smooth, steady accelerator pressure for cruising conditions. Hard acceleration pours more fuel into the engine, but it is incompletely burned and mileage suffers.

If every household in the U.S. lowered its average heating temperatures six degrees over a 24-hour period, we would save more than 570,000 barrels of oil per day.

Pike Teams End Successful Season

The Pike Boys' JV soccer team experienced a highly successful season, beating five of its opponents, tying one in double overtime, and losing one. Under the leadership of Captain Jason Reeder of Andover, assisted by Co-Captains Matt McCarthy, Fran Sullivan, and David Kagan, the team's forwards (Charlie Bowers, Eric Sanborn, Lincoln Field, Nolden Johnson, Frank Manganaro, Jake Dunnell, Chris Cleaveland, and Chris Andros) pounded 34 goals into their opponents' nets. Backs Denny Gately, Matt McCarthy, Ian Briggs, Scott Kellan, Teddy McEnroe, Greg Palmer, Tom Bride, George Liss, David Popowitz, Louis Tobia, and Patrick McCullom helped goalies Roger Townsend and Adam Kneissler limit their oppositions to 14 goals.

The highlight of the season came in the final game against Fessenden School on Nov. 2 in Newton: with Captain Reeder on the disabled list and the team still recovering from a narrow defeat at the Tower School, the Pike team came from behind to edge out a skillful opponent 5-4, finishing the game in the moonlight.

The Pike girls' JV soccer team also ended its season with a respectable 2-3-1 record. Goalie Liz Asadoorian played exceptionally well, registering two shutouts. To compliment her play in the defensive end were fullbacks Kim Depelteau and Rebecca Batal.

Student Ski Weekends Planned

The Department of Community Services is planning three "skiing weekend" trips to Sugarloaf Mountain this year for students in both junior and senior high school. This year, there will be separate trips for the East and West Junior High Schools as well as the Senior High School. Trip and registration dates for each trip are as follows:

West Jr. High School — Trip Date: Jan. 15, 16, 17; Registration Begins: Dec. 19 at W. Jr. High School Cafeteria.

High School — Trip Date: Feb. 16, 17, 18; Registration Begins: Jan. 9 at the High School Cafeteria.

East Jr. High School — Trip Date: March 7, 8, 9; Registration Begins: Jan. 23 at the East Jr. High School Cafeteria.

Registration for a specific trip submitted after those dates listed above will take place at the DCS office located at the Stowe School. Each trip will cost $79 and will include lift tickets, lodging, meals and round trip transportation. Lessons and rentals will be available at the ski area for a nominal fee. Four adult chaperones will accompany students on each trip. Information flyers on each weekend will be available at the schools within the next few weeks. Since these special ski packages have been extremely popular in the past, the Department would like to emphasize that all reservations are accepted on a first come, first served basis.

Energy Seminar At School

The average Bay State homeowner is expected to pay $1,300 or more to keep warm this winter, according to one study on the rising cost of home heating oil.

But it doesn't have to be that way. Heating bills can be cut by up to 30 per cent in many cases, through simple conservation techniques available to everyone. The technology is here now; all you have to know is how.

The North Reading Conservation Commission and the state office of Energy Resources, (MOER), will sponsor a special Energy Conservation Seminar on Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 7:30 p.m., in the auditorium of North Reading High School, Route 62, North Reading.

Admission is free, and refreshments will be available. Residents from surrounding towns — Reading, Lynnfield, Wilmington, Andover and North Andover are encouraged to attend.

The seminar's theme is "save money, save energy" through sensible conservation methods. Speakers from the state energy office will talk about the most up to date home insulation methods, improved oil burner efficiency through simple maintenance, and how to maximize the benefits of wood burning stoves.

There will also be a slide-tape show, question and answer periods, and free literature on home energy conservation available.

Scholarship Recipient

Andover High Soccer coach Dave Amundsen congratulates Steve Luby, recipient of the $500 Andrew E. Sartory scholarship presented by the Andover Soccer Association.

Awarded Scholarship

Steven Luby was announced as the first recipient of the Annual Andrew E. Sartory Memorial Scholarship. Shown above being congratulated by coach Dave Amundsen, Steve was chosen for the award because of his continuing help to the Andover Soccer Association since its beginning.

Steve has given freely of his time in many areas as the program grew from 180 players in the Spring of 1977 to over 1000 players this past fall. Steve's latest accomplishment was organizing clinics which were presented to the youngsters of the Soccer Association with the help of many of the Andover varsity and Jr. varsity team members. Steve is at this time undecided as to his choice of a school for further education.

Insulate

The load on heating and cooling equipment can be reduced by as much as 20 to 30 percent by investing a few hundred dollars in insulation. That's about as much as it would cost for a new color TV; but the benefits of insulation — lower utility costs — continue for years.

Gym Building Options Are Being Examined

The fate of Cardinal Cushing gymnasium in Shawsheen is still under consideration, with a strong feeling in the administration, to dispose of the structure.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said this week he has three proposals under consideration, and will be discussing various options with the selectmen in the coming weeks.

Among the groups interested in acquiring the property is the Citizens League for Adult Special Services (CLASS), which expressed interest in the building just prior to the October town meeting.

A special study committee recommended to the October session that the town dispose of the property, based on the expense required to put the building in proper condition for use as a municipal facility.

Clark said CLASS officials will present him with a proposal as to how they intend to use the building. His understanding is that it would not be a long-term use, since the group is currently conducting fund-raising activities for construction of a new building on the Vocational school property in West Andover.

These are two other groups interested in purchasing the building, one involving light manufacturing, the other using the facility for storage, the latter being the Andover Companies which offered to buy the gym last spring.

Andover companies had made an offer to the town to purchase the gym, the matter being placed before the annual town meeting. Funds from the sale were to be applied to reconstruction of Recreation Lodge at Rec. Park, destroyed by fire over a year ago.

But, voters rejected the idea, opting rather for a study to determine if the gym should be retained for municipal use.

Clark said that in the coming weeks he will be discussing with selectmen the options of selling the building outright to CLASS, putting it up for public auction, or retaining it as a municipal building, the latter being of low priority.

The manager said that he is generally focusing on the reconstruction of Rec. Lodge in Rec. Park as the town's principal recreation facility.

The park is a central recreational facility and has more to offer with a lodge building than other facilities in town.

Clark said the lodge would provide for effective utilization of the park, it would not have a detrimental effect on the neighborhood, since there is parking available there and noise would not be a factor to surrounding neighborhoods.

The Community services committee is currently completing a study of municipal buildings available for recreational use and will hold a public hearing next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The gym building is part of the overall study.

What is to be accomplished by the study, Clark hopes, is a pulling together of loose ends, so to speak, leading to a determination of what buildings fit into the town's needs. Based on the finding the town could then proceed to upgrade structures where necessary and dispose of others possibly placing them back on the tax roles.

Draft Test

Test windows and doors for airtightness. Move a lighted candle around the frames of windows. If the flame dances around, you need caulking and/or weatherstripping. Try slipping a quarter under the door. If it goes through easily, you need weatherstripping.

Shade trees are major energy savers. On a sunny, 80 degree day, shade trees can reduce a home's inside temperature by as much as eight degrees.

Attic Door

Don't let cold air seep into the home through the attic access door. Check to make sure it is well insulated and weatherstripped; other wise you'll be wasting fuel to heat that cool air.

Cleanup

Oiled beaches are cleaned up with high-pressure hoses, steam cleaning, and bulldozing in response to public anger. Habitats and marine life are destroyed by such drastic attempts to preserve them, Mass. Audubon points out. It has been recommended that ecologists be used to assess oil damage and select appropriate cleaning techniques.

Hot Water

Heating water accounts for about 20 percent of all the energy used in homes. Repair leaky faucets promptly and do as much cleaning as possible with cold water. Insulate hot water storage tank and piping.

Frank Witt

Celebrates 25 Years Of Service

Frank Witt of 20 Chatham Road, Andover, recently celebrated 25 years of service with Bell Laboratories, 1600 Osgood St., North Andover.

Frank, who is head of circuits and sub-systems department, joined the research and development firm in Murray Hill, N. J. and transferred to the North Andover facility in 1965.

He is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University where he received his BS and MS Degrees in Electrical Engineering.

New Service Helps Find Nursing Homes

There is a new service that can help families who must place a family member in a nursing home. State agencies have always been available to help the welfare patient, but now there is resource for the private patient.

The Bureau of Geriatric Placement, One Wells Ave., Newton, has a professionally trained staff, including a nurse and social worker, with years of experience in geriatric service. According to the president, Donald Whiteman, the service is the first of its kind because it assists in all aspects of the placement process with special attention given to the needs of the potential patient. There is no cost to the patient or his family for the Bureau's services; the nursing homes pay the fee.

"We are committed to placing the individual in a facility best suited to his needs, interests, and capabilities," says Whiteman. "To accomplish this we arrange indepth interviews with the patient, his doctor, and family or close associates. We then take the family to visit nursing homes that meet the criteria established during the interviews; or we'll recommend alternative solutions when we feel they're appropriate. For instance, we'll refer the family to a visiting nurse or homemaker service."

Whiteman, who has nine years experience as a nursing home administrator, says the Bureau evolved as a result of the need he saw for this type of service during his years as an administrator. "When families are confronted with this problem they are somewhat overwhelmed. It can be a heart-wrenching experience that stirs all sorts of emotions, especially guilt. They find it very difficult to handle all the decisions and red tape involved. There has never been a resource that they could turn to for guidance. In fact, many of our referrals come from elderly commissions, doctors, and churches who have been trying to fill this need and can't."

According to Whiteman there are agencies that maintain listings of vacant beds. However their service ends when they find a bed for the patient, and they often don't have the time or resources to be selective. The Bureau of Geriatric Placement, on the other hand, works with the family to find the right bed; provides counsel about benefits such as Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Medex, Medicare and Veterans Administration programs; and after the family has decided on a home, processes the records necessary to complete the placement.

The Bureau of Geriatric Placement uses only accredited nursing homes for its placements.

It takes 10 to 12 years to license and construct a nuclear power plant in the U.S. — twice the time it takes in Japan, says the Edison Electric Institute.

Earnings, Sales Gain At Standex

Standex International Corporation (NYSE) announced that first quarter earnings rose 17% per share and sales rose 20% over the prior year's record results. The company forecast that fiscal 1980 (ending June 30, 1980) will be "another excellent year" for the diversified company.

In the first fiscal quarter ended September 30, net income rose 24% to $4.6 million, as compared with the prior year's $3.7 million. Earnings per share rose 17% to 70¢, up from 60¢ a share the year before. Sales for the quarter increased 20% to $81.9 million, up from $68.3 million a year ago.

In the announcement, Daniel E. Hogan, Chairman and Chief Executive, stated, "While we are beginning to feel the effects of the long-heralded recession in some areas, barring a severe downturn in the economy, Standex expects to continue the rate of progress made over the past eight years."

Mr. Hogan indicated that the net earnings results were aided by a lower effective tax rate, due to the 1978 Reform Act and the newly enacted United Kingdom Stock Tax Relief Provision. He noted that divisional operating earnings were only slightly above last year's because of several factors: shortages of raw materials in some electronic operations, extraordinary costs incurred in converting part of a newly-acquired furniture plant to Yield House-type production, the recently-completed relocation of a metal-spinning plant to a new and larger facility, and a general softness in certain sectors of the economy.

Mr. Hogan added that "our divisional operations are healthy, with overall backlogs quite strong, especially in the industrial, electronic and institutional groups. We anticipate another excellent year."

Mr. Hogan also stated that earnings per share in the latest quarter were based on 6.5 million shares outstanding, an increase of 7% from the prior year resulting from the exercise of stock options and the conversion of debt.

In recognition of the company's record fiscal 1979 results and its "excellent prospects" for the present fiscal year, Standex's Board of Directors again increased the quarterly cash dividend — for the 14th time in the last 16 quarters — to 20¢ a share, or an annual rate of 80¢ a share. The dividend is payable on November 25 to stockholders of record November 9, 1979.

Mr. Hogan added that Standex's financial condition "has never been stronger". The company has a current book value of $16.24 a share, working capital of $12.37 a share and a current ratio of 2.6:1. In view of the continuing strong demand for the company's products, Standex plans to make capital expenditures of about $10 million this year.

Standex International is a diversified manufacturer operating in five basic growth areas: Institutional Products; Consumer Products; Graphics; Industrial Products; and Electronic Products.

Fish Volts

Electricity in fish was known to the Egyptians 5,000 years ago. Discharges from torpedo-rays (220 volts) were used by the Romans as a cure for gout. The South American electric eel produces a shock of more than 500 volts; the shock of an "electric" catfish is 350 volts, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

To be cited at the annual dinner, Friday, Nov. 30 at the Sheraton-Boston, are John F. O'Malley, New England director, AFL-CIO department of organization and field services; Bertram W. Creese, executive director Massachusetts Leather Manufacturers Association and Robert S. Fuchs, director of the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board.

Sutton Travel Service — Area's Most Experienced Agency

When you want to "get away from it all", consult first with Sutton Travel Service, with offices at 21 Lawrence Street, Lawrence and 1 Lowell Street, Andover. They are the most experienced travel agents in the Merrimack Valley area.

Two exciting travel programs being offered now by Sutton Travel are: extended stay vacations in Spain, and a trip to the Passion Play of 1980. Make your reservations now (leaving every Monday) for an extended stay vacation in Spain — stay at a residential apartment hotel for one week for only $499, including air fare . . . and stay additional weeks for as little as $40 a week, up to eight weeks! Or reserve now for a trip to Oberammergau for the Passion Play, 1980, with two weeks in Germany, Switzerland and Austria, for under $1,000, including air fare, the play, tours and hotel.

Sutton Travel urges you to make your winter cruise reservations early. There are still a few cabins left for a special cruise leaving January 12, 1980, on the M. S. DISAPPEARING ACT

If you decide to help your Realtor show your home, do him, you, and the prospect a favor. Don't!

When prospects look at a home, they want to feel free to look around, walk here and there, and generally poke around. If they do buy, they'll be putting a lot of money in it, and they rightly want to make sure it's the home that's really for THEM. They don't feel free to really check the place if the owner is trailing along when the Realtor is showing them around.

This home may be the prospect's future "castle" — they'll want to inspect it carefully. They may walk around turning lights on and off to see if the lighting is adequate. Faucets in the kitchen and bathrooms may be tried, and such things as the oven, furnace, and water heater will be closely checked. The prospect would feel uneasy doing all these things under the watchful eyes of the owner!

So, if your Realtor calls up and says he has a prospect in tow, make plans to go to a show, do some shopping, or visit a friend. Remember, it's the HOME that's being sold and the spotlight should only be on IT... not you!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

VIP Speakers Program Offered

The Department of Community Services in conjunction with the Volunteer Inservice Program (VIP) will offer a one-time workshop on Tuesday, Nov. 27, 7-9 p.m. at the Andover High School entitled "Is It Deductible."

John Burns, tax consultant, will inform you as to what is tax deductible and what is not tax deductible in this practical hands-on approach workshop for the preparation of your personal income tax return. The basic Federal 1040 and related schedules will be covered in this lecture designed for the layperson.

The end product of the planning should be a full program that could, using mainly existing equipment and facilities, manage to transport a majority of the region's travelers for both work and pleasure needs on some form of convenient, reliable public transit. Ms. Mandel comes to the Authority from studies at University of Massachusetts-Amherst, and will be developing these plans through consultations with various public, community and business leaders.

The average dishwasher uses 14 gallons of hot water per load. Use it energy efficiently. Be sure the dishwasher is full, but not overloaded, when you turn it on.

Crafts Expo

The Boston Christmas Crafts Expo will open Nov. 23 at noon and run through the weekend at the Commonwealth Pier Exhibition Hall on Northern Avenue in Boston. This second annual Crafts Expo will return this year with over "10,000 items" of practical use and beauty, hand-wrought and offered for sale at prices that start under $10 and top at $500.

A production of Denise and Rudy Kowalczyk of American Crafts Expositions, a Connecticut-based company, the show will bring together 250 exhibitors-artists and craftspeople from 20 states, 67 of them from Massachusetts.

The blue whale is the largest animal ever to live on earth, 150 tons. It strains its food (krill, shrimp) through the sieve-like baleen in its mouth; the throat can swallow nothing larger than a sardine, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.
